

Austria Email Hygienic Storage Tank KWS

An energy storage tank with return - stratification system, which provides heat for heating, but also for the direct production of hot water.

The advantages of the AE Hygienic Storage Tank

- The hot water is produced with a generously dimensioned corrugated stainless steel pipe in a continuous flow heater. No additional pumps or complex control equipment are required.
- Large-area coil
- Built-in stratification device for energy-efficient stratification of the heating water (return)
- 100mm ECO SKIN fleece insulation (environmentally friendly, kind to the skin, easy and quick installation)
